<<(D调钢琴、小提琴和弦乐四重奏协奏曲)>>

内容概要

French composer Ernest Chausson (1855-1899) came late to music and his promising career was cut tragically short by a fatal accident; nevertheless, his musical legacy embraces compositions in every genre, including the critically acclaimed Concerto in D for Piano, Violin and String Quartet. This masterful work exhibits the significant influence of Cesar Franck, with whom Chausson studied, particularly in its cyclical form, numerous modulations, and deeply expressive lyricism. Chausson hoped to foster a rediscovery of classic forms, especially in chamber music. Grove's Dictionary of Music and Musicians notes that "He wanted to prove, above all., that a sonata or a quartet may contain as much music as a whole opera." This brilliant work attests to the success of his efforts. Reproduced here from an authoritative source, this delightful work is certain to enchant a broad range of musicians and music lovers.
