章节摘录

To protect the environment (环境), most supermarkets in China stopped providing free plastic (塑料) bags. If you don't want to pay money to buy them, you have to bring your own shopping bags. What kind of bag is the best to bring?

Students in Shanghai Middle School have some good ideas. Fifty-four students of the school held an activity. They made their own environmentally-friendly shopping bags in it. Most students use old clothes to make their bags. They painted pictures like the Olympic rings on them. But Wang Shuncheng, a Junior Two boy, chose a different material. He made his bag with old newspaper. Is a newspaper bag strong enough to hold things?

"No problem. I put six bottles of water in the bag," he said. "It's strong enough!"

Cheng Lisi, a girl, had a more traditional way to make her bag—she made a bamboo bag. It was not an easy job. With her grandfather's help, Cheng spent a whole afternoon making it. She also wove (编织) flowers on the bag. Making bags was not all the students did. They had another job: to persuade their parents and relatives (亲戚) to use environmentally-friendly shopping bags instead of plastic ones. The school showed the bags so that shops and stores can get some ideas from the students' work. () 6. We
