章节摘录

No Smoke without Fire An American lawyer was given a box of twenty-four rare and expensive Cuban cigars by a grateful client and made sure they were included in his insurance policy, which covered flood, fire and theft. Within a few months, he had smoked all of the cigars and then made a cheeky claim on his insurance, maintaining they had been "lost in a series of small fires". The insurance company refused to pay, for obvious reasons, but the lawyer, having read through the terms and conditions of his policy, took them to court. It seems he was the only person not to be surprised when he won his case: despite the judge agreeing with the insurance company that the claim was tenuous, he still ruled the policy did indeed cover small fires. Faced with an expensive appeal process, which they were in no way certain of winning, the insurance company accepted the ruling and agreed to a compensation payment of $15,000 to the lawyer. However, immediately after the payment had been accepted, the insurance company had the lawyer arrested on twenty-four counts of arson and he was later convicted on his own evidence of intentionally burning his own property and sentenced to twenty-four months in prison with a $24,000 fine. 无烟不起火一位美国律师收到一盒二十四根珍贵的古巴雪茄, 这是一位客户的谢礼, 客户向他保证, 这盒雪茄他已经上了保险, 因水灾、火灾和偷窃造成的损失都能得到补偿。

几个月后, 这位律师抽完了所有的雪茄, 厚颜无耻地要求保险公司给予赔付, 他声称这些雪茄在"一系列小规模火灾"中毁损了。

保险公司拒绝赔付, 个中原因很明白, 但是这位律师——他已经通读了保单的所有条款, 将这家保险公司告上了法庭。

当他赢了这场官司时, 他似乎是唯一不感到惊讶的人。

尽管法官同意保险公司的说法, 即这位律师的说法是非常牵强的, 但是他依然判决该保单承保的范围包括小规模火灾。

面对代价不菲的上诉程序, 而且也没有必赢的把握, 保险公司便接受了该判决, 同意向该律师支付一万五千美元的赔偿。

然而, 当这笔款项一支付, 保险公司就以二十四起纵火罪的罪名起诉该律师, 因为律师已经自证其罪, 所以被判定故意焚毁自己财产的罪名成立, 遭到了逮捕, 并被判二十四个月的监禁, 同时处以两万四千美元的罚款。

Nobby's Nails In Australia (although the story has also been set in America, Africa and Europe), a well-known nail and screw manufacturer called Nobby's Nails has decided on a new advertising campaign. The owners of the company were a particularly religious family, well known for employing only those who shared their beliefs. As a result, the instructions to their advertising agency were that they wanted a religious feel to the campaign, and this had proved to be a problem for the usually creative company. However, one particularly bright spark felt he had solved the dilemma and the new advert was created. On the Sunday it was to be first aired, the managing director invited all of his fellow churchgoers over to his house for lunch and to watch the national screening of the advert on TV. In the first shot was a magnificent scene depicting Jesus standing on a hilltop looking out across the plain. Then, on seeing two figures on the horizon, he turns and starts to run. The scene then switches to two Roman centurions running along, and one turns to the other and says, "I told you, this would never have happened if we'd used Nobby's Nails." It can't be true, can it? 诺比牌钉子在澳大利亚 (有时这个故事的背景又会被换成美洲、非洲或欧洲), 有家闻名遐迩的公司专门生产直钉和螺钉, 名叫"诺比钉子"; 他们想要打一轮新广告。

公司的所有人是特别虔诚的一家人, 他们因只雇用和他们有相同信仰的员工而出名。

因此, 他们对广告公司的要求便是广告必须带有宗教色彩, 对于富有创意的广告公司来说, 这是一个挑战。

有一个脑子特别灵活的人觉得他已经找到了问题的解决办法, 于是新广告就出炉了。

星期天这个广告就要首播, 于是常务董事便邀请了他那些教友到他家里去吃午饭, 同时观看该广告在电视上向全国播放。

广告的第一个镜头是耶稣站在山顶俯瞰平原的宏大景象，然后他看到天边出现了两个人，就转身开始跑。

然后镜头切换到两个并排跑的罗马百夫长，其中一个掉头对另外一个说：“我告诉过你，要是我们用诺比牌钉子，就不会发生这种事情。

”这个故事不会是真的，是不是？
