随着我国改革开放的深入发展,对于人们使用英语书面语言的能力提出了更高的要求。为满足高校学生及各行业外语爱好者的愿望,使他们尽快掌握英语的写作知识与技能,我们特编写了《英语写作》这本书。

该书注重“实用”,重视学生实际交际能力的培养,既讲授写作基础知识,又有题例点评和典型范文,并且每章都附有练习题。

通过综合训练,使学生能基本掌握叙述、描写、议论、说明等方面的写作技巧,会用一般的常用文体进行写作。

本书简明通俗,题材广泛,题例新颖,内容充实,语言规范,摒弃空洞理论。

本书可作为大学英语专业学生的写作题材,也可供非英语专业学生使用,还是涉外工作者及英语爱好者的良师益友。

章节摘录

A smile or a tear , which will you choose ?

In the dictionary , "smile" means a pleased , happy , amused , or other expression on the face with a parting of the lips and loosening of the face muscles. "Tear" is a drop of clear salty liquid secreted from the eye , and shed , especially in grief. These are the two common definitions for a smile and a tear. A smile represents pleasure , happiness and amusement , while a tear represents unhappiness and grief. Indeed , a smile often plays an important role in communication. When people see your smile , they know you are happy. And they will be influenced by your fair emotions. Pleasure and comfort will arise from their hearts because of your smile. Consequently , people will have a good impression of you. It will help you to get along well with people. A smile not only shows your good humor but promotes your understanding towards others ; for behind a smile there is ardor , kindness , and friendliness , which people desire. There is also self-confidence in a smile. Your smile suggests you are sure of yourself and brave enough to confront difficulties in life. All these things win you others trust and favor. Facing a smiling person , even a furious person will soften. Few people can have hard feelings before the Mona Lisa. Smiles have the power to remove doubt and hostility. A smile is not only for others , it is also for our own sake. We have no reason to treat ourselves badly. Try to smile to yourself in the mirror when you get up in the morning , you will feel fine all the day. "Keep a smile till ten o'clock and you will be happy the whole day. " This is an old English saying. In China , people like to say , "Smile sunny smile , ten years younger. " A smile is like a warrior who drives anxiety , sorrow and rage out of the mind. It does good to your health. A smile is so important and necessary that you can hardly find a person who never smiles in his life. Sometimes , when we are so busy with work or with studying , we may forget to smile. But it does not take much time or effort for a simple movement such as smiling. Do remember this : "Never frown , even when you are sad , because you never know who is falling in love your smile. " Contrary to a smile , tears come out when we feel upset , wronged , helpless , disappointed or frightened. A tear comes with sorrow and weakness. These are the emotions people try to avoid in daily life. So a tear is considered an unpleasant thing. Children , especially boys , are not encouraged to cry. If a grown man weeps in public , he usually gets jibes and jeers. It is not a manly behavior. On the other hand , tears are regarded as a woman's patent , only because it is a representation of weakness. There is much prejudice both of men and women. Yet the two are not naturally connected. Tears are a natural product. We weep tears when our eyes are uncomfortable. There is a physical need to weep tears to clean our eyes. In fact , tears have several merits. On one hand , tears can have the same effect as a smile , to some degree. Tears can also show a person's humanity.
